

8th International OFEL Conference

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Santina Hovanessian, Lilian Soares Outtes Wanderley, Molly Freeman santina@hovanessian.info, lilian.wanderley@ufpe.br, mofreeman@mills.edu

Friday - 17th April 2020 Section C

17th - 18th April 2020
Dubrovnik, Croatia

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Hovanessian, Wanderley and Freeman

“Out beyond ideas of wrongdoing and rightdoing, there is a field. I’ll meet you there”

Rumi, 13th-century

<https://onbeing.org/poetry/a-great-wagon/>

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Hovanessian, Wanderley and Freeman

Presentation Structure

1. Purpose - Armenia, Brazil, Canadá, NL and USA in Croatia.
2. Main ideas in the title
3. The message from the voices of the systems
4. Final remarks

#StayHome and Thank you for this inspiring opportunity to connect online for OFEL 2020.

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Hovanessian, Wanderley and Freeman

Purpose - Armenia, Brazil, Canadá, The Netherlands and USA in Croatia.

How can we share knowledge and experiences regarding adaptive leadership during currently rapid and continuous transitions?

Means - Voices of the system (Fridjhon, Rød, Fuller, 2014)

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

1. Technology is not a quick fix for addressing adaptive challenges
2. Social-Emotional Intelligences are a priority
3. Collaboration and Communication are key capabilities for the design of adaptive strategies
4. Complex problem solving requires multi disciplinary approaches to overcome silos of practice in the design of adaptive strategies

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

5. Inclusion of all stakeholders in program, product development to build collective intelligence across the entire system
6. Uncertainty is a given
7. Big data and quantum are not meant to provide predictability, but to allow navigating uncertainties via Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI).
8. Adaptive strategies empower partnership over domination

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Hovanessian, Wanderley and Freeman

Final Remarks

Our virtual presentation evolved through sharing various activities and strategies during weekly Zoom video conferences.

Thank you very much.

We would like to wish you all strength and serenity in seclusion or social distancing while rethinking values, consumer patterns and communicating with others in unity.

Collective Intelligence to Navigate Transitions: multidisciplinary engagement in adaptive leadership

Hovanessian, Wanderley and Freeman

Main References

AEON. (2020). Collaborators in creation - Our world is a system, in which physical and social technologies co-evolve. How can we shape a process we don't control?, <https://aeon.co/essays/how-social-and-physical-technologies-collaborate-to-create>

Dylan, William. 2012. Embedded Formative Assessment

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B3HRvFsZHoo>

Fridjho, M.; Rød, A.; Fuller, F. (2014). Relationship Systems Intelligence™ Transforming the Face of Leadership.

http://www.crrglobal.com/uploads/5/6/9/0/56909237/rsi - transforming the face of leadership.pdf

Mulgan, G. (2018). Big mind: How collective intelligence can change our world. Princeton University Press.

Nijs, D. (Ed.). (2019). Advanced Imagineering: designing innovation as collective creation. Edward Elgar Publishing.

Saunders, T., & Mulgan, G. (2017). Governing with collective intelligence. Nesta: UK.